

Hotels and B&B in Rome (2016)

The Dipartimento di Lingue, letterature e culture straniere – Università degli Studi Roma Tre - is located in Via Ostiense 234, at walking distance from the Underground Station “MARCONI” (Line B).

We are providing a list of suggestions for your accommodation in different areas of the city (either well connected through the Underground, or at walking distance from the conference venue).

The prices quoted are indicative and can vary according to availability, early/late booking, length of stay. We recommend that you double check prices when booking. In some cases, if you quote “Università degli Studi Roma Tre – Seminario Anda” in your booking, you get a reduction (this is indicated in the list); unless specified, the hotel/B&B will apply its normal prices. In most cases a credit card number is required for booking.

Unless specified, the hotel prices include breakfast and Wi-Fi (either in the rooms or in the hotel lounge). All the rooms have a private bathroom. However, it is advisable to visit the websites provided and double check the amenities when booking.

Some of the places listed have DURC (Documento Unico di Regolarità Contributiva), which you might need in some cases for refunds (on behalf of Italian public institutions, etc.); others do not have it. If you need it, you are advised to double check with them when booking.

The city/local tax of 3-6 € per person per day, cash payments only, is compulsory in Rome and it is normally not included in the prices quoted.
